

FAQs About Your Account Transition to STOCKO

All You Need to Know

1. Will my Client ID or Login details for Trading / Back Office change?

You will continue to use the same Client ID and Login info to access stocko trading platform, back office etc, No changes whatsoever

2. Does this mean the SAS Online SEBI Registration, License and Bank account / Demat ID details will change?

South Asian Stocks Ltd. would continue to be our company name registered with SEBI, Exchanges, Banks, NSDL and other institutions.

You can continue to transfer funds as usual. Only that we call ourselves stocko :)

3. What about website and trading platforms?

We will be moving to Stocko website coming weeks. Will also keep you updated regarding new versions of Trading Platforms which we will roll out in the next 1 month. They would encompass our new brand identity and more importantly added products and features to take your trading to the next level.

4. Any action required at client end?

Yes. To ensure you receive all communication from stocko in your inbox, we suggest you mark emails from Stocko domain as important / not spam.

Contract Notes, Circulars and other important transactional information would be sent out from Stocko domain moving forward. We promise not to spam your Inbox
